Inclusion Policy

(See also EAL; Equal Opportunities; Gifted and Talented; Racial Equality; SEN)

Date of Policy: 2011

Review Date: 2014

1 Introduction

- 1.1 The mission statement of our school talks of valuing the individuality of all of our children. We are committed to giving all of our children every opportunity to achieve the highest of standards. We do this by taking account of pupils' varied life experiences and needs. We offer a broad and balanced curriculum and have high expectations for all children. As a church school based on Christian values, the achievements, attitudes and well-being of all our children matter. This policy helps to ensure that this school promotes the individuality of all our children, irrespective of ethnicity, attainment, age, disability, gender or background.

2 Aims and objectives

- 2.1 Our school aims to be an inclusive school. We actively seek to remove the barriers to learning and participation that can hinder or exclude individual pupils, or groups of pupils. This means that equality of opportunity must be a reality for our children. We make this a reality through being a Dyslexia Friendly School and the attention we pay to the different groups of children within our school or make provision for groups of children who may attend our school in the future.

- girls and boys;
- minority ethnic and faith groups;
- children who need support to learn English as an additional language;
- children with special educational needs;
- able, gifted and talented children;
- children who are at risk of disaffection or exclusion;
- travellers;
- asylum seekers.

- 2.2 The National Curriculum is our starting point for planning a curriculum that meets the specific needs of individuals and groups of children. We meet these needs through:

- setting suitable learning challenges;
- responding to children's diverse learning needs;
- overcoming potential barriers to learning
- using assessment to enhance the learning of all children
- providing other curricular opportunities outside the National Curriculum to meet the needs of individuals or groups of children.

- 2.3 We achieve educational inclusion by continually reviewing what we do, through asking ourselves these key questions:

- do all our children achieve their best?
- are there differences in the achievement of different groups of children?

- what are we doing for those children who we know are not making the expected progress?
- are our actions effective?
- are we successful in promoting racial harmony and preparing pupils to live in a diverse society?

3 Teaching and learning style

- 3.1 We aim to give all our children the opportunity to succeed and reach the highest level of personal achievement. We analyse the attainment of different groups of pupils to ensure that all pupils are achieving as much as they can. We also make ongoing assessments of each child's progress. Teachers use this information when planning their lessons. It enables them to take into account the abilities of all their children. For some children, we use the programmes of study from earlier key stages. This enables some of our children to make progress in their own lessons, perhaps after significant amounts of time spent away from school.
- 3.2 When the attainment of a child falls significantly below the expected level, teachers enable the child to succeed by planning work that is in line with that child's individual needs. Where the attainment of a child significantly exceeds the expected level of attainment, teachers use enrichment materials to extend the breadth of work within the area or areas for which the child shows particular aptitude.
- 3.3 Teachers are familiar with the equal opportunities legislation covering race, gender and disability.
- 3.4 Teachers ensure that all children:
- feel secure and know that their contributions are valued;
 - appreciate and value the differences they see in others;
 - take responsibility for their own actions;
 - are taught in groupings that allow them all to experience success;
 - use materials that reflect a range of social and cultural backgrounds, without stereotyping;
 - have a common curriculum experience that allows for a range of different learning styles;
 - have challenging targets that enable them to succeed;
 - participate fully, regardless of disabilities or medical needs.
 - are given opportunities to enable them to do as well as possible in test situations eg. additional time allowed

4 Children with disabilities

- 4.1 We are committed to meeting the needs of children who have disabilities just as we are to meeting the needs of all groups of children within our school. The school fully meets the requirements of the amended Disability Discrimination Act that came into effect in 2005 and the Equality Act of 2010. All reasonable steps are taken to ensure that these children are not placed at a substantial disadvantage compared to non-disabled children.
- 4.2 The school is committed to providing an environment that allows disabled children full access to all areas of learning. All our classroom entrances are wide enough for wheelchair access, and the designated points of entry for our school also allow access. Our Access Plan identifies how we intend to increase the extent to which disabled pupils can take advantage of all that our school has to offer.
- 4.3 Teachers modify teaching and learning expectations as appropriate for children who experience difficulties. For example, they may give additional time to complete certain activities, or they may modify teaching materials. Support by a classroom assistant or parent helper may also be given. In their planning, teachers ensure that all children are given opportunities to develop skills in practical aspects of the curriculum.
- 4.4 Teachers ensure that the work undertaken by all children:
- takes account of their pace of learning and the equipment they use;
 - takes account of the effort and concentration needed in mental and oral work, or when using, for example, vision aids;
 - is adapted or offers alternative activities in those subjects where children are unable to manipulate tools or equipment, or use certain types of materials;
 - allows opportunities for all children to take part in educational visits and other activities linked to their studies;
 - includes approaches that would allow hearing-impaired children to learn about sound in science and music, and visually-impaired children both to learn about light in science, and also to use visual resources and images in art and in design and technology;
 - uses assessment techniques that reflect their individual needs and abilities.

5 Disapplication and modification

- 5.1 The school can, where necessary, modify or disapply the National Curriculum and its assessment arrangements. Our school policy is to do this only in exceptional circumstances. The school makes every effort to meet the learning needs of all its children, without recourse to disapplication or modification. We achieve this through greater differentiation of the child's work, or through the provision of additional learning resources. When necessary, we also support learning through appropriate external specialists. In such cases, teachers work closely with these specialists to support the child.
- 5.2 In exceptional circumstances we may decide that modification or disapplication is the correct procedure to follow. We would only do this after detailed consultation with parents and the Local Authority. The school's governor with responsibility for special educational needs would also be closely involved in this process. We would ensure that every effort had been made to provide the necessary support from within the school's resources before considering such action.
- 5.3 Should we go ahead with modification or disapplication, we would do so through:
- Section 364 of the Education Act (1996). This allows modification or disapplication of the National Curriculum, or elements of it, through a statement of special educational needs;
 - Section 365 of the Education Act (1996). This allows the temporary modification or disapplication of the National Curriculum, or elements of it.

6 Inclusion and racism

- 6.1 The diversity of our society is addressed through our schemes of work, which reflect the programmes of study of the National Curriculum. Teachers are flexible in their planning and offer appropriate challenges to all pupils through a Key Skills approach regardless of ethnic or social background. All racist incidents are now recorded and reported to the governing body by the head teacher. The school contacts parents of those pupils involved in racist incidents. Further details are to be found in the school's Racial Equality Policy.

7 Summary

- 7.1 At St Luke's we provide equality of opportunity. Similarities and differences between people and cultures are explored sensitively. Equal treatment is given to boys and girls, and non-stereotypical behaviour / views are positively encouraged. All children will have equal opportunity to reach their full potential regardless of their race, gender, cultural background, ability or any physical or sensory disability. Children with special needs are given extra support to allow them to access the full curriculum. We aim to overcome any barriers to learning, e.g. dyslexia, dyspraxia and dyscalculia, which can hinder children's learning, by following specific programmes to cater for their individual needs.

8 Monitoring and review

- 8.1 This policy is monitored by the governing body, and will be reviewed in three years, or earlier if necessary.
